DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 44, 51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kadota 5818550.

Claim 44. (New): A color liquid crystal display having liquid crystal sealed between first and second substrates opposing one another and each having electrodes disposed on its opposing side, said color liquid crystal display comprising a plurality of pixels, wherein said first substrate comprises: a plurality of pixel electrodes for driving said liquid crystal and which is spaced apart from one another;
a data line for supplying display data to associated electrodes among said plurality of pixel electrodes, said data line arranged overlapping predetermined electrodes among said plurality of pixel electrodes (see figure 14);
and color filters 2001 formed in an interlayer between said data line and said associated electrodes overlapping said data line 1807 among said plurality of pixel electrodes (see figure 20), and wherein a planarizing insulating layer is provided in an interlayer between said color filters and said plurality of pixel electrodes (see figure 20 and associated column 17, lines 20-35).

Claim 51. (New): The display defined in claim 44, wherein: each of said plurality of pixel electrodes is connected to said data line to which the pixel electrode is assigned via an associated switch element; and said color filter is absent from a contact region between said switch element and the associated electrode among said plurality of pixel electrodes.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 45-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kadota 5818550.

Claim 45. (New): The display defined in claim 44 wherein said liquid crystal has negative anisotropy of dielectric constant.

Claim 46. (New): The display defined in claim 44 wherein initial orientation of said liquid crystal is controlled to a vertical direction with respect to the plane of the substrates.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 32-43 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-30 of U.S. Patent No. 6639640. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the application claims are broader than those of the patent.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 47-50 and 52-53 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
